Research outputs

Nursing tensions within the Australia health care system

Hope in Iranian mothers of children with cancer: a descriptive correlational study

Addressing the gaps in health for children, Innovative Health Service delivery: Enhancing lifelong development and the health and wellbeing of marginalised children 0 to 18 years.

Beyond Kayaking – A qualitative investigation of parents and facilitators views regrading an outdoor, activity-based, multi-session parenting intervention program

Spillover Trends of Child Labor During the Coronavirus Crisis - an Unnoticed Wake-Up Call

Parry, Y. K., 26 Apr 2020, 3 p. Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences.

Meeting the needs of marginalised children: An innovative Nurse Practitioner led healthcare model at Uniting Care Wesley Bowden

Pathways to Collaboration: Facilitating Strategic Governance

Antenatal Dads and First Year Families program: A qualitative study of fathers' and program facilitators' experiences of a community-based program in Australia

Nursing help for homeless children
Parry, Y., 2 Dec 2019, Flinders University News 2 p.

Flinders medical students pilot free clinic for homeless men

Exploring the role of Communities for Children (CfC) Facilitating Partners and their impact on service delivery and collaborative community service delivery 2019
Parry, Y. K., Gregoric, C. & Abbott, S., 1 Aug 2019, Adelaide: Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences., 89 p.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY Exploring the role of Communities for Children (CfC) Facilitating Partners Impact on Service Delivery and Collaborative Partnerships 2019
Parry, Y. K. & Abbott, S., 5 May 2019, Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences., 19 p.
The Social Determinants and the Healthcare System

Briefing paper: Exploring the role of Communities for Children (CfC) Facilitating Partners Impact on Service Delivery and Collaborative Partnerships 2019
Parry, Y. K., 30 Jan 2019, Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences., 3 p.

The Social Context of Behaviour
Parry, Y. & Willis, E., 2019, Psychology for Health Professionals.. Elsevier Australia, p. 147-168 22 p.

Assessing levels of student nurse learning in community based health placement with vulnerable families: Knowledge development for future clinical practice

Educating professionals who will work with children in the early years: an evidence-informed interdisciplinary framework

A phenomenological exploration of graduate nurse transition to professional practice within a transition to practice program

Improving responses to older women affected by domestic and family violence in Adelaide, South Australia: An Action Plan

Parry, Y. & Abbott, S., 2018, Adelaide, South Australia: Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences., 121 p.

Taking health care to vulnerable children 0-12 years: Nursing leading the way
Parry, Y., Hill, P. & Radbone, W., 2018, p. 5-5. 1 p.

Why Become an ACCYPN Credentialed Nurse?
Parry, Y. & Patane, I., 2018.

How do nurse practitioners work in primary health care settings? A scoping review

The Importance of Community Service Delivery for Mother with Postnatal Depression

Communities for Children: Final Report: The use of Communities for Children program: Cultural Community Capacity Builder Programs to Improve the Social Determinants of Health Outcomes in Western Adelaide Parry, Y. & Abbott, S., Sep 2017, Adelaide, South Australia: Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences., 78 p.

Improving Clinical Handover in a Paediatric Ward: Implications for Nursing Management

ac.care, Beyond Kayaking, Communities for Children Murraylands Final Report: The use of Communities for Children programs to improve family outcomes in Murraylands region of South Australia Parry, Y. & Abbott, S., 2017, Adelaide: Flinders University, School of Nursing & Midwifery. 82 p.

ac.care Communities for Children Murraylands: Antenatal Dads and First Year Families: Final Report

ac.care, Murraylands, Aspire Children’s Development and Wellbeing Program, Communities for Children: Final Report

A comparison of sound levels in open plan versus pods in a neonatal intensive care unit

Building connections for Dads: Research into Dad focused parenting programs - what works

Communities for Children: Final Report: ‘Our Family’ program from Communities for Children initiative to improve the Social Determinants of health outcomes in Western Adelaide Parry, Y., Berry, M., Abbott, S. & Senaha, D., 2017, Adelaide, South Australia: Flinders University, College of Nursing & Health Sciences.

Developing a National Interdisciplinary Educational Framework for Professionals Working with Children in the Early Years: Final report 2017

Evaluating the ac.care Generic Homelessness Service programs in Mt Gambier: (Limestone Coast Homelessness Service) Final report.
Parry, Y. & Abbott, M., 2017, Adelaide: Flinders University, School of Nursing & Midwifery. 70 p.

Promoting Child Aware Approaches to practical interventions in communities: Using mixed methods research to evaluate Communities for Children programs
Parry, Y., 2017. 1 p.

Reviewing policy changes to Child Aware Approaches in the homelessness sector: Lessons in policy driving practice and service delivery
Parry, Y., 2017.

A scoping study: children, policy and cultural shifts in homelessness services in South Australia: are children still falling through the gaps?

Deprivation and its impact on non-urgent Paediatric Emergency Department use: are Nurse Practitioners the answer?

Final report: The Western Perinatal Support Group (WPSG) program in Western Adelaide

Improving outcomes for infants whose mothers have postnatal depression and anxiety

National interdisciplinary education framework for professionals working in the early years
Nursing in Australia

Parry, YK., & Abbott, S, 2016, Communities for Children: Final Report: KidStuff and the use of Communities for Children programs to improve the Social Determinants of health outcomes in Western Adelaide Parry, Y. & Abbott, S., 2016, Adelaide: Flinders University, School of Nursing & Midwifery.

Applying psychosocial theories for nursing students

A comparison of sound levels in open plan versus pods in a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit

Applying student-centred approaches to learning in health professional education

Communities for Children Final Report: The use of Communities for Children programs to improve the Social Determinants of health outcomes in Western Adelaide Parry, Y. & Grant, J., 2015, Adelaide: Flinders University School of Nursing and Midwifery. 79 p.

Improving outcomes for families experiencing homelessness: Working together as multi-disciplinary teams to increase health outcomes for children and families

The in-service educational needs of front line homelessness service staff in a Generic Homelessness Service to deliver Child Aware Practice in accordance with the ‘no wrong door’ policy project report 2014
Parry, Y. & Grant, J., 2015, Flinders University School of Nursing and Midwifery. 41 p.

A thematic analysis and a reflective description of the experience of nursing, midwifery and paramedic students on a short-term mobility community health placement in Vietnam

Improving outcomes for homeless children and families: What do front-line homelessness service staff need to know?

Nursing and vulnerable children: Our role

Pedagogical shifts: Developing a national interdisciplinary educational framework for professionals working with children in the early years

An investigation of culturally competent terminology in healthcare policy finds ambiguity and lack of definition

Are the New General Practitioner Plus Centers the Correct Government Response to a Lack of Pediatric After-hours Care for Parents?

Children, policy and cultural shifts in homelessness services in South Australia
Parry, Y., Burke, L. & Grant, J., 2013.
The social context of behaviour

Using mixed methods to analyse barriers to primary paediatric health access

Understanding the Relationship Between the Social Determinants of Health, Paediatric Emergency Department use a the Provision of Primary Care: A Mixed Methods Analysis
Parry, Y. K., 12 Apr 2012, 307 p. Flinders University, School of Medicine.

Are the new General Practitioner Plus centres the correct government response to a lack of pediatric after-hours care for parents?

Right Bite for Schools and Pre-Schools Evaluation 2012

The Australian Health Care System

The social determinants of health and the health care system

Don't crush my dream! A thematic analysis of appeal letters written by students who have been asked to 'show cause' for academic poor performance
Parry, Y. & Reynolds, L., 2011. 5 p.

Methods of Inquiry for Researching with Vulnerable Refugee Families

Talking about Refugees: 'problems' and 'resilience' and what this means for services and practice for refugee parents and children

The social determinants and the healthcare system

'Wanna be' tertiary transfer students: The experience of two transitions

Mapping Graduate Qualities in an undergraduate Health Science program

Scaffolding key academic skills in a Bachelor of Health Science program

A longitudinal study of factors affecting nursing students' preference of working with older people
Dementia delirium and depression - curriculum development and evaluation project

Partnership in Aged Care Education (PACE): a strategy to recruit and retain qualified nursing staff in Residential Aged Care (RAC)

Professionals Protecting Children: Child Protection and Nursing and Midwifery Education in Australia

The social context of behaviour

An evaluation of Flinders Medical Centre Emergency Department family violence screening program

Flinders Medical Centre Early Links Evaluation Project: Final report March 2007